

What does it mean to be black and Catholic?

To be Black and Catholic is to immerse myself in not only my Catholic faith but, together with other Christian denominations, to come to a deeper understanding of what binds us all together believing in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ."

Dominic Scott, XULA '20

*"My fear was not of death itself, but a death without meaning."
Huey Newton*

Dominic Scott

Xavier University of Louisiana senior Business student in Sales and Marketing, serves as Grand Knight of the Xavier Collegiate Unit #403 of the Knights of Peter Claver and Ladies Auxiliary. The Knights of Peter Claver and Ladies Auxiliary is the world's oldest and largest historically Black Catholic Lay Fraternal Order. For more information see:

https://www.kofpc.org/xavier_university_collegiate_u.php

Institute for Black Catholic Studies
XAVIER UNIVERSITY of LOUISIANA

